NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

NEW-YORK, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 22

WHIG STATE CONVENTION. WHIG STATE CONVENTION.

The Wing Electors of the State of New York are requested to meet in their espective A seembly Districts, and appoint one Delegate from each District to attend a STATE CONVENTION, which will assemble in the City of Syzcuse on WEDNESDAY, the 28th day of September next for the purpose of nominating Candidates for the officers of Judge of the Gourt of Appeals, Secretary of State, Controller, State Treasurer, Atturney General, State Engineer and Surveyor, Canal Commissioner, and Inspector of State Prisons. JOHN L. SCHOOLCRAFT, JAMES HORNER, JAMES HORNER, Albany, FRANKLIN TOWNSEND, HENRY Z. HAYNER, LE GRAND B. CANNON, Troy. JAMES S. THAYPER, J. P. PHILLIPS PHENIX, J. R. H. HAWS, Whig State Central Committee.

ALBANY, August 7, 1849.

The Whigs of New-York.

The Whigs of New-York. The two opposing factions having resolved to keep their 'Union and Harmony' in two distinct parcels for another year, it undoubtedly devolves on the Whigs to select and elect the State officers to be chosen in November for the three ensuing years. They are a Secretary of State, Controller, Judge of Appeals, Treasurer, Attorney General, State Engineer, and Inspector of Prisons. A very grave responsibility will devolve upon our Deleupon the primary assemblies wherein such Delegates are chosen. Let it be the seasonable care

f all Whige that such responsibility is duly fulfilled. At no time is there such danger of bad nominations as when the party nominating is sure of suc cess. Then the tricksters of politics, the packers of Conventions, are in their glory; then the game of bargain and intrigue is spirited and lively then the action of the few in behalf of the manyor rather, in behalf of themselves in the name of the many-becomes most vigorous and untiring A party that has no prospect of success may easily and naturally put its best men in nomination while a party that can hardly by possibility fal of success must be vigilant and careful to avoid the selection of its worst.

We recall these truths that we may the more earnestly impress on the Whige of our State the necessity of a prompt and weneral attention to the selection of Delegates to their Nominating State Convention. There is no other possible way of keep ing the whole business out of the hands of the few who under the cloak of party zeal and vigilance conceal the personal axes they have to grind than for the many to take it in hand. Let them inquire into the characters and qualifications of our several State Officers not already well known to them and decide which it would be advisable to re nominate and which to drop, or whether all should alike be renominated or superseded. After the whole ground shall have been impartially surveyed, let them choose Delegates prepared to act as they shall have concluded. Let them be men of intelligence and probity, with no end to subserve but the good of the State through the efficiency capacity and probity of its Whig Administration

Mark the men who make divisions among you and avoid them' is a time-honored and saintary admonition. To differ in our views of the relative fitness and merits of different citizens is natural and unavoidable; but Faction is quite another thing. Let there be a day fixed for the choice of Delegates-and we wish it could be permanent and uniform throughout the State-say the Saturday fortnight previous to the State Convention for the Township or Ward meetings, and the Saturday succeeding for the District Conventions-and le wide and timely notice be given of such meetings by advertisement, if possible. Let fair play the general demand, and the will of the majority implicitly deterred to. If two Delegates appear at Syracuse from any Districta bad habit as yet confined to our adversaries. and we trust to continue so-there will be deep disgrace impending over whoever shall be calpable, and we trust they will be fearlessly indicated. Next year we shall have the now hostile factions unitedly bearing down upon us; woto those, whoever they may be, who for faction ends shall disorganize and leave us unprepared for the rugged encounter!

We left the Bluffs the 15th of May and were detained on the way, recruiting the animals and ourselves, about eight days. The rouds were worse than we expected to find them, guite a number of treams to pass, some not difficult, others had.— The season bas been unusually wet, and being compelled to travel on low lands near the banks of Platte River, north side, we found the travelin. Patte River, north aide, we found the traveling extremely sliw. However, we came through safely, meeting no acculent to ourselves or asima and without sickness. After traveling between two and three hundred miles, we all came to the circulation that our loads were too heavy, and to lighten them we thought advisable. I lightened a number of pounds by leaving on the road about 135 lbs. of pora, selling 50 lbs. of flour, 200 lbs. of beautiful to be an were unbestly and cans: We thought the beans were unhealthy and that we could space them as well as not, which we have since lound to be the case. Yesterday incruing I let the train in sompany with three, some 28 miles from the ferry where we
